You can provide an opportunity to better develop and empower our leaders of tomorrow to strive for excellence in leadership, service, and in life.

Three seminars that are customized for each audience, and are interactive and informative

- Workplace (and life) Secrets to tell my younger self

We focus on the power of the student's personal and professional brand that they carry with them, and the secrets that are important to know as they move to the next stage of their life, whether that is college, trade school, or a career.

This seminar concentrates on Business & Professional Etiquette (topics that don't get a lot of attention any longer) and the information I have gathered from observing people at over 7,000 meetings and events on how they look, act, speak, and more today.

- The "sparks" needed to be a Selfless Leader

I believe that everyone has the potential to be a leader, as you don't need a business card or title to be one. The challenge is that most people aren't taught what it means to be a leader, and then they wonder why others don't respond to them. I was that person, and this seminar is the true story of my business going into Chapter 11 bankruptcy, partially due to failure to ignite my people with the "sparks" that are needed to be a respected and effective leader.

- The 5 Essential Laws of Hospitality

What business are all of us in, first and foremost? I believe it is the Hospitality Business, as I believe it is about making and solidifying that personal and emotional connection with people we meet. This can be challenging today as the world we live in at times can be inhospitable.

That is why these 5 Laws of Hospitality, and how we implement and practice them, are crucial for our personal and professional development. How we treat, serve and care for others makes us feel good and memorable. Our young people today need to know that they can make a big impact on others by focusing on these laws of Hospitality.

The Investment

When an organization, association, group, etc. books Bob Pacanovsky to speak at their event at one of Bob's standard rates, a 60-minute seminar will be donated in the organization's name and presented by Bob at no cost to a youth organization, youth club, or school district of the client's choice.

This seminar can be scheduled as a live event while Bob is in that community, or done as a virtual event at a later date

Thank you for helping develop the leaders of tomorrow!
